SOUSA MADE A UNIVERSAL HIT

There's only one Sousa and Honolulu has seen and heard him twice. The master musician and his incomparable band drew great crowds yesterday and last night at the Bijou, and to say that Sousa fulfilled all expectations is putting it mildly.

Sousa not only pleased the people with the way the band played, but with the general conduct of his program. It is zip-bang-zowie! from the moment he walks upon the platform and bows until the end of the performance.

He is the same Sousa. Years have not dimmed the youthful fire that he put into his earlier marches, nor quenched any of his enthusiasm for perfection in the art of handling the baton. The revelation to Honolulu people was not in the magnificent swing and rhythm of his musicians, all playing as one in "The Captain," or "The Stars and Stripes Forever," or "The High School Cadets," but in the authoritative, musicianly manner, in which he interprets Grieg and Tschai-kowsky and other masters. In this his band was as delicately effective as a symphony orchestra.

The soloists were unusually good, but not extraordinary. Miss Virginia Root, soprano, and Miss Nicoline Zedeier, violinist, were well received. Some critics profess a slight disappointment in the cornetist, Herbert L. Clarke, not in his ability, for that was evident, but in what they thought was an apparent lack of endeavor to show his full powers. However, his is splendid cornet playing.

Sousa made a big hit with his rendition of "Aloha Oe." The courtesy and good-fellowship that prompted this was repaid by Captain Berger and the Hawaiian band, who went to the steamer last night as Sousa left for Vancouver and serenaded the wonderful little man who is ending a wonderful world tour.

BATTALION OF INFANTRY HERE

With Col. Dillon T. Stamper commanding, the third battalion of the Second Infantry arrived here last night on the transport Locomo.

Until the departure of the Twentieth Infantry for Fort Douglas, which will be about October 4, the new-comers and the Twentieth will double up at Fort Shafter. The four companies of the Second will be housed in double order. Officers' quarters 5, the only field officers' house at Shafter, has been arranged for some of the officers of the Second.

The third battalion includes Companies I, K, L and M, and has been stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo. Lieut.-Col. Wilson Y. Stamper was recently promoted from a major of the Twenty-first, and is a very popular officer, winning much praise wherever he has been.

LEPROSY HOME IN FIJI TO BE STARTED

The British government has decided to start a leprosy home in Fiji and has appropriated $250,000 for the purpose.

The home will be fitted with all the latest and best equipment that can be obtained and will also be built according to the latest plans. It is expected to be the newest thing along that line, and great results are expected to be obtained from it.

CONGRESSMAN KAHN PRAISES PLANTATIONS

Congressman Julius Kahn of California yesterday made an inspection of labor conditions at Ewa and Oahu plantations, and as a result thinks that Hawaiian labor is in good shape. In company with T. H. Petrie of Castle & Cooke and Royal D. Mead, director of the Labor Bureau of the Sugar Planters' Association, the California Congressman made the trip to the plantations, and afterwards expressed himself as well satisfied that Hawaiian labor is given good treatment by the employers.

He commented particularly on the care for the comfort and amusement of the employees shown by the plantation management and said that so far as he has seen, the wages paid are commensurate with the labor employed. He thinks that the opening of the canal will give Hawaii a much more fruitful source of labor.

Mrs. Morgan T. Goldsmith of New York was killed in an automobile accident near Cape May.
